

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO ASSERT ITS AUTHORITY

SPURIOUS CHECK GETS EX-CONVICT IN TROUBLE HERE

J. Martin Passed Bad Checks; Captured After Chase.

Jack Martin, alias William Mason, was arrested yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock at a rooming house on West First street, after a hunt and chase of more than two hours, for passing two worthless checks at the A. L. Gelsenheimer & Co., store aggregating $101.22. The prisoner, who claims his right name is Jack Martin, and is said to be a paroled convict, whose home is in Kankakee, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Martin Gannon in police court, waived preliminary hearing and was held to the grand jury under bonds of $1,000 on a charge of forgery. Being unable to furnish bonds he was taken to the county jail.

Martin went into the Gelsenheimer store Wednesday afternoon and purchased some articles, tendering a check for $48.62 in payment and received the balance in cash. In both cases blank counter checks on the City National bank were used. About the noon hour, Martin again entered the store and purchased some expensive woman's lingerie, tendering another check in the sum of $52.60.

Clerk Made Inquiries. William Nixon, who waited on Martin, became suspicious of the check and upon inquiry at the bank learned that the firm, whose name was signed to the checks had no checking account. The checks were made out to William Mason and bore the signature of the Simmons company, one showing Chicago as the headquarters of the firm and the other Springfield, Ill. Martin told Mr. Nixon that he had worked for the Simmons Contracting Co. at the Dixon state colony and was taken to the office of the company, where it was learned that the checks were worthless.

Martin then explained that he would make the amount good by calling on a woman at the Nachusa Tavern and the investigation continued to that place. Here, Martin escaped from the investigators, there being no woman at that place as he had claimed. He ran through the alley and was lost sight of. About 3 o'clock after police officers and deputies from the sheriff's office had been called to assist in the search, Martin was again located and taken to the police station.

Woman Is Apprehended.

He refused to answer questions and a few minutes afterward Miss May Powers, who claims Mr. Vernon, Ill., as her home, passed by the station, was recognized as the lady for whom Martin was buying the dainty lingerie, and was taken in custody. She returned over some of the articles, others being taken back to the store. The young woman, claims to have met Martin in the postoffice this morning and they conversed together, he asking her if she wanted some new clothes, to which she answered in the affirmative. Martin proceeded to bestow the best to be had upon his newly made acquaintance. She told the police that she was in Dixon last week, went to Centralia and had just returned this morning, expecting to secure employment at the colony. Martin is also said to have been employed at the colony.

No charge was preferred against the woman, she assuring the officers that she intended returning to her home. Martin, after being arrested, boasted the acquaintance with State Parole Officer Bert Carter of Rock Island and later dispatched a message to the penitentiary official, asking him to come to Dixon at once.

It is said that this is not Martin's first offense at passing worthless checks, he having been sentenced to Joliet for the same violation. He is said to be out under parole and it is expected he will be returned to that institution upon the arrival of the parole officer from Rock Island.

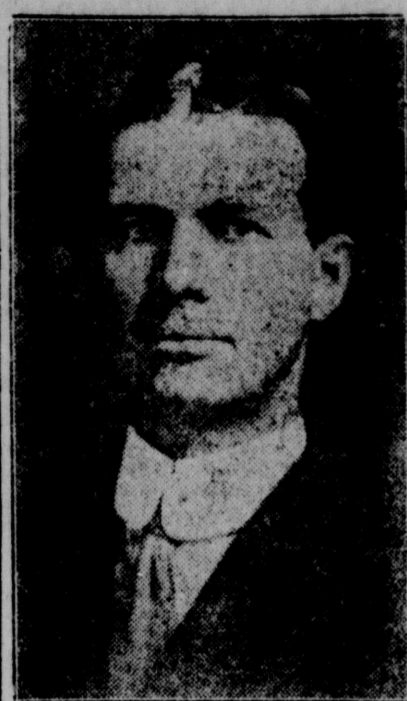

An effort was made last evening to locate State Parole Officer Bert Carter at his home in Rock Island, but the police were notified that he was out of the city. Martin, the police learned, was paroled by J. C. Schuele of this city last spring and the parole officer failed to notify the police that a paroled convict was in the city. It is expected that Carter will arrive late today or tomorrow to investigate the case and doubtless take Martin back to the Joliet penitentiary.

"MEANEST ROBBER" GOES TO TRIAL IN PEORIA NEXT MONTH

Bookkeeper in Pekin Bank Faces Federal Prosecution.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Springfield, Ill., Oct. 21.—The "meanest bank robber" in the annals of the federal department of justice will go to trial in the federal court at Peoria, the first week in November. United States District Attorney Edward C. Knott announced here today, following the indictment yesterday at Peoria of Otto W. Bottin, 27, former bookkeeper of the Farmers' National Bank at Pekin, Illinois.

Suspicion has finally lifted from the shoulders of the various bank tellers of the Farmers National bank, and has lodged where it belongs. Mr. Knott said. Over a period of three years, Bottin fished $10 or $20 at a time from the cages of his fellow employees and turned deliberately and placed the money in his own account in the same bank.

Tactics Were Unique His thievery as checked by an expert accountant, sent to Pekin by the Department of Justice, exceeded $4600 and are estimated by Mr. Knott at about $7000. His tactics were unique. He pretended doubt as to the correctness of bank slips and would return them to the tellers, standing by while the particular teller re-checked, and reaching around the unsuspecting worker to take a bill or two.

Every teller in the bank labored under unjust accusation, and stood half the losses from his particular cage. Called on the carpet they could not daunt but deny charges, and assert their innocence. The one teller, Mr. Knott said, upon whom Bottin imposed most was eventually discharged, while bank officials continued unsuspecting of their bookkeeper.

First shifting of suspicion followed when attention was directed to Bottin's "newly rich" indulgences. Mr. Knott said. He purchased an automobile with his ill-gotten gains, bought a Victrola, outfitted himself in expensive clothes, and refurbished his home. He has pleaded "not guilty" and will go to trial before Judge Louis Fitzhenry.

Fined $100, Costs for Carrying Booze

John Balinski, a laborer for the Northwestern, was fined $100 and costs by Judge John B. Crabtree in the county court yesterday afternoon on a charge of transporting liquor on a public highway. Balinski was arrested in his bunk car at Graves Crossing yesterday morning by a special agent from the railroad and Deputy Sheriff Robert Phillips.

SLIP THROUGH FRENCH POLICE LINES TO U. S.

Threaten Reprisals If Italians Are Executed in Mass.

Paris, Oct. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—French police officials asserted today that more than 100 members of the young communist organization in Europe had slipped through the immigration lines and reached the United States within the last two months, for the purpose of "causing trouble" if the two Italians, Sacco and Vanzetti, were executed for the murder of which they were convicted in Massachusetts last summer.

Many of these men, the official said, had applied for passports to the American passport bureau in Paris, and had been refused after inquiry into their cases, but later were able to get to America by other means. The police are now working on the theory that some of these communists who failed to get through the lines, after having been refused passports, were responsible for the bomb sent to Ambassador Herrick which blew up his home Wednesday.

Italian Made Threat. This theory is the result of a threat made by a young communist, who said he was an Italian, at the American passport offices here last Monday, when the officials told him they could not give him a visa for America unless he conformed with the regulations. The applicant, who gave his age as 22 years, became angry when refused, exclaiming: "Somebody will get killed for this."

The officials induced him to give his address but both this and his name could be verified, and it is assumed they were false. A guard was immediately placed at the entrance to the office.

This man, the police think, may be one of the group responsible for the bomb sent to the ambassador and the threats made against American officials in France.

Threaten Reprisals.

Ambassador Herrick, when he returned to his office this morning, found 68 additional letters of protest in connection with the Massachusetts case, two of them containing threats of reprisals against Americans if the executions took place. The guard at the embassy was increased today and every possible precaution had been taken to protect the passport bureau, the reparations commission offices and the American consulate.

The communist mass meeting of protest against the conviction of the two Italians, called for tonight in one of the largest halls of Paris, is causing some apprehension, and the republican guard has been called out to keep order and prevent any demonstrations of any kind in front of the embassy or other American offices.

DAD CALLS IT THE NUTTY SEASON

NOW SAY CANDY IN CHICAGO CASE IS NOT POISONED

Investigators Mystified By Chemists' Analysis.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, Oct. 21.—Investigators were mystified by the report of chemists today that the box of candy sent to Miss Helen Rosenfeld, a nurse at the West End hospital, and which resulted in the immediate illness of six nurses, containing no poison.

Traces of a peculiar drug was found by the city chemist, but not in large enough quantities to prove serious, he said. First examination of the candy at the hospital two days ago, when the nurses became ill, by Dr. H. B. Valin showed the presence of a deadly poison, he said, and this theory was also expressed by Dr. B. H. Breakstone, chief surgeon of the hospital.

The belief that a jealous suitor sent the candy to Miss Rosenfeld has been advanced by postal authorities and they expect to have procured a confession today.

The handwriting on the wrapper of the so-called "poison" candy is declared to be similar to that of Benjamin Zimmerman, an ardent admirer of the young woman. He and his brother are being held.

Three of the victims of the candy are still confined to their beds at the hospital, but none is now in a serious condition, hospital authorities report.

Dixon Minister is Kept Busy as Supply Pastor for Baptists

The building is to be 52x192 feet in dimension and a one-story structure.

The officers of the firm are said to be A. J. Stone, president; K. A. Stone, vice president, and Charles P. Slater, secretary and treasurer. The company has been organized in Chatsworth and manufacture sheet metal products. Mr. Stone spent some time in Dixon several weeks ago looking over possible sites for the location of a factory and investigated the possibility of organizing a local stock company.

JURY REFUSED TO CONVICT IN S. AND S. CASE

Peoria Prosecutor's Explanation: Law is Unpopular.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Peoria, Ill., Oct. 21.—After five hours deliberation the jury hearing the case of Frank Higgins and Chas. Mooney, proprietors of the "Wolf Club" on charges of violating the Illinois Search and Seizure act, last night returned a verdict of not guilty. The significance of this case is that it was the first to be tried in this county court under the search and seizure act and the state had what it considered an incontestable case.

The Wolf Club was raided June 11 by Special Investigator Schofield of the state's attorney's office and a squad of officers who seized two full quarts of whiskey and 129 cases of home brew.

Attorney John Daugherty, for the defense, in addressing the jury said: "Are we to allow Russian police system, spies and sneaks to take away the last vestige of personal liberty?" "When you cannot convict in a case like we had you cannot convict in any," said Assistant State's Attorney Thurman after hearing the jury's verdict. "When this is flashed around the bootleg traffic will open wider than a parched throat around a bottle of a friend's liquor. It only goes to show how unpopular the law is."

Atkinson Awarded Contract for Sewer

UNIONS WARNED AGAINST STRIKE BY LABOR BOARD IN ORDER THIS MORNING

Administration Determined Power and Dignity of Government Shall Remain Unimpaired.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The United States Railroad Labor Board today backed by all the authority which the government can place at its disposal, called the railroads of the country and the five big unions to appear here next week and solemnly warned the unions not to strike until the board has heard their grievances and rendered a decision.

The board's action practically means that there will be no strike on October 30, unless the unions should choose to openly defy the government for it is hardly probable that a decision will be rendered by the board before that date.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The United States Railroad Labor Board at 1:15 this afternoon adopted a resolution citing the "big four" brotherhoods, the Switchmen's Union and all railroads named in the wage reduction order of July 1 to appear before the board next Wednesday morning, October 26, at 10 a. m.

The board also said that insofar as the threatened strike is the result of a dispute between the carriers and their employees concerning wages, rules and working conditions, "this board hereby assumes jurisdiction of said dispute on the statutory ground that it is likely substantially to interrupt commerce."

They are cited to appear that the board may determine whether or not they have or are violating the wage reduction order.

Meanwhile both parties to the dispute are warned to maintain the status quo on the properties of the carriers. The action by the board followed a conference which began at 10 o'clock. Board members declined to say whether they had been in touch with Washington by long distance telephone during the morning.

While the transportation act gives the board no power to enforce its decisions, it is understood that last week's conference between President Harding, members of the board, Attorney General Daugherty, Secretary of War Weeks and the Interstate Commerce Commission, placed all the departments of government in accord as to what shall be done if either side refuses in open defiance of the labor board.

If Unions Defy Govt. Should the unions refuse to abide by the board's order it has been pointed out, the board will, under the law, issue a statement to the public to that effect, and the President and his advisers can then proceed to take such action as they consider necessary.

There has been some doubt whether the board could intervene and summon the roads and unions to a hearing prior to the actual walk-out on the roads, but the board apparently has evaded that difficulty by its reference to the conference held a week ago tonight by union leaders and railroad executives. The board assumes jurisdiction because that conference failed to reach a decision, and a dispute is pending as a result.

MAY USE WAR POWERS.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Washington, Oct. 21.—Whether to resort to the war powers of the federal government to maintain railway transportation in event of the threatened nation-wide strike of railroad workers is understood to have been under consideration today by the administration.

After the regular cabinet meeting it became known that some members of the President's official family had advised him to use wartime authority to prevent the threatened strike from seriously interfering with the transportation of necessities. The provision authorizing the President to take such steps is a part of the national defense act which continues in force until there has been a formal declaration of peace.

It was not indicated that a definite decision had been reached, however, and most of the evidence tended towards a continuance of the waiting attitude adopted by President Harding while the negotiations between the railroad labor board and union officials are in progress.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The United States Railroad Board having admittedly failed in its attempt to prevent a rail strike through conferences with heads of the New York, Oct. 21.—John J. Esch, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in a letter to the Merchant's Association made public today, says he understands it is the purpose of the administration to see that the findings of the labor board shall be obeyed, both by the railroads and their employees. The letter was in acknowledgment of a communication from the association concerning the threatened rail strike.

Topeka, Kas., Oct. 21.—In event a railroad strike becomes effective, the state government in Kansas will operate the lines within the state, if it becomes necessary, under the Kansas industrial court law, Governor H. J. Allen announced today. First, however, the railroad managers will be given an opportunity to operate the roads.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

UNIONS WARNED AGAINST STRIKE BY LABOR BOARD

"Big Five" rail unions, labor chiefs today were pushing plans for a general walk-out beginning on Oct. 30, and officials of the carriers were moving at double time in their preparations to combat the proposed strike.

The conferences yesterday between the railroad labor board and the five union heads—Warren S. Stoe of the engineers, L. E. Sheppard of the conductors, T. C. Cashen of the switchmen, W. G. Lee of the trainmen and W. S. Carter of the firemen—brought no results except an admission from the board that the first effort of a governmental agency to avert a strike had failed and statements from the union chiefs that the meeting resulted only in "the labor board being convinced that the unions really mean to strike."

Is Up To Government.
A report of the conference was telegraphed to President Harding at Washington and both the labor leaders and board members seemed inclined to feel that the next step toward alleviating the crisis would be taken there. Several railroad union men said that "it looked as if only the government itself could prevent a walk-out."

Mr. Stone, Mr. Lee and Mr. Carter were in Cleveland today meeting informally with their executive committees to complete strike plans, while Mr. Cashen was directing activities in the Switchmen's Union from Buffalo and Mr. Sheppard in Cedar Rapids was rounding out the final details for his organization. The executive committees of all five unions will meet in Cleveland on Monday.

Roads Make Plans.
On the carriers' part heads of western roads met in Chicago in a conference announced for the purpose of forming plans to combat a strike, while a similar meeting of southwestern roads was held in St. Louis. At each meeting road presidents were quoted as saying that their plans would be rushed at the utmost speed as a result of the failure of the labor board conference to brighten the admittedly grave situation.

The union heads, before their departure for their organization headquarters expressed resentment over the meeting with the board. Coming here in the belief that the board would present a concrete plan of settlement, they claimed that the board members had "presented nothing but words" in trying to avert a walk-out, merely trying to dissuade them from carrying out the strike and presenting nothing which they considered as even a tangible working basis toward clearing up the situation. The union chiefs steadfastly maintained it was said, that they could not postpone the scheduled walk-out.

"Final Adjournment."
While adjournment of last night's conference was termed by R. M. Barton, chairman of the board as "final adjournment" with no plans for the immediate future, board members said the way still was open to again call the union presidents in a settlement conference.

Members of the board said that they "now fully understood labor's views in the matter," and while not having any definite plans as yet, were of the opinion that something might yet be done by the board. To that end they held an executive meeting today at which the situation was gone over thoroughly. Members said they hoped to have some word from Washington before this day ended. Any plans which the board might have had to call in heads of the railroads have been abandoned, it was said.

Both Fight For Lives.
The conference, it was said, developed only one point on which the conferees were in entire unanimity, although all of the discussions were in an amiable manner. This point was that both groups in the meeting are convinced that they are "fighting for their lives." The labor chiefs told the board that the lives of the unions depended on the handling of this crisis, while members of the board frankly admitted, it was said, that the future of the board also may be at stake.

With what was considered by many as the government's first effort to prevent the strike a failure, attention today again turned to the eleven "standard" unions which still are astride the fence with no definite indication as to which way they will jump. These organizations, holding the balance of manpower, through having more than three-fourths of the country's rail employees in their membership, have voted for a strike in protest of the recent 12 per cent wage cut but had deferred final action as to ordering a walk-out pending the labor board conferences.

Many Against Strike
Their final meetings began today and it was expected that a few days would find a decision from them. While many leaders of these groups said at the time of the announcement of the "Big Five" strike call that their unions were certain to join the others in a walk-out, considerable missionary work against a strike has been carried on by some of the chiefs and virtually all of them today admitted that they could not forecast the final decision. A high official of the maintenance of way organization, which numbers 250,000 men declared that his organization "would not start the ball rolling" and that if it went on strike "the others will have to go first to convince us they are sincere." Executives of the shop crafts—six unions with 476,000 members—today met with B. M. Jewell, their head, urging the men not to strike but admitting that he might not be able to prevent a walk-out.

Telegraphers Divided.
The telegraphers, clerk and signalmen were other groups which were holding conferences today, but virtually the only information that could be obtained about their possible course of procedure was that they were somewhat divided with some of the chiefs counseling a strike and others opposing one.

Local railroad presidents expressed great surprise when informed of the failure of the labor board conference to bring any results so far as a settlement was concerned, several of them doubting the report at first. Many said they had deferred their attitude strike plans pending the conference but declared that they would lose no time now in completing plans to operate their lines during a strike.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—On his return from Chicago, where the "Big Five" railroad executives were in session yesterday with the United States Railroad Labor Board, W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen's organization, announced this morning that the railroad strike situation was unchanged.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—I have not received an order to appear before the Railroad Labor Board next Wednesday but if I am ordered to do so, I certainly will be there," said Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. "You may also say that the other chief executives of the railroad transportation brotherhoods will go anywhere they are ordered to appear in connection with a settlement of the strike."

MONEY

Crossing Siberia, Charles R. Crane, retiring American minister to China,
carried several barrels of nails, needles and tooth brushes, which he used as money.

This is turning the clock back 2721
years. It was 806 B. C. that the Greeks produced the world's first coins—irregular lumps of gold or silver.

What did men use as a medium of exchange before then?

Manuscripts found in the city of Nippur, buried 1400 B. C., show that values were measured in live stock, grain and metal. A woman slave was worth four oxen and an ox was worth a three-foot bar of copper or brass.

A run on a bank in those days must have resembled a stampede of cattle.

Money You jingle it in your pocket.

All want it. Few have it.

Put a coin in your palm. It represents civilization from its most primitive form—for money was the first medium by which men banded together and guaranteed good faith.

Salt and other necessities of life have been used as money. So has tobacco, the currency of Virginia in its colonial days.

Under the barter system, men traded articles for article.

Gradually came real money—coins and banknotes, backed by gold, the precious substance. Take away that gold backing and the money becomes worthless—as in Russia, where the natives prefer nails, needles and toothbrushes to worthless paper.

The more gold you have back of a money system, the more secure is the value of that money, and the higher
it rises.

That's why American money, backed by possession of more than half the gold in the world, now is at par
while the money of other countries is below par.

Is our great horde of gold going to prove a curse?

One school of economists believe that other countries, in a desperate attempt to get gold from us to brace their currency systems, will try to flood us with cheap goods.

Other economists think that trade between nations in the coming decades will go back to the primitive barter system—say, outright trading of perfumes for wheat, with no money involved. Much foreign trade is already being done on a barter basis.

D. R. Cristinger, controller of the currency, thinks that an international money system must be established.

One thing is certain: There's plenty of food on earth for all, plenty of labor to make all needed necessities of life. Obviously, then, business stagnation is a financial problem—a matter of money.

YOUR FORTUNE

Charlie Chaplin, with his mustache
shaved off, is in his old home town, London, England, after an absence of nine years.

He will, doubtless, visit the music halls where his father and mother in years long past were poorly paid performers. In particular, he will seek out the tiny theater where Charlie, age four, made his first stage appearance, singing the coster ballad, "Jack Jones."

At eight years, he played minor parts in the musical show, "The Yorkshire Lads" and the masterpiece
"From Rags to Riches."

That is the story of Chaplin's life.
Yes, you say, but it was genius that put him at the top.

Not altogether. Hard work was equally responsible. For Charlie Chaplin can remember when his boy-hood home was an English workhouse—poorhouse, as we call it. Now, 33 years old, his fortune is somewhere in the millions.

That's a big gap. Genius couldn't bridge it alone. For even a genius finds it a job to get out of the poorhouse level.

Does it require genius to make a million? No.

But it does require something exceptional. For instance, exceptional pleasantness.

The other day, in New York, James W. Hebron was buried. His first job was in 1877, as doorman at Delmonico's at $1 a day. "Jimmy" was so pleasant, so obliging, so eager to help
every one, that tips flowed in fast.

Then Delmonico's rich customers began giving Jimmy real tips—tips on the stock market, on sound investments.

At his death, the former doorman
was a millionaire.

It pays to be pleasant.

There is no absolute formula for success.

The thing that will make one man
rich might fail another man.

Henry Ford used a bicycle shop as the starting-point of his great industry. Others, who had bicycle repair shops, never got out of them.

Genius and hard work made Charlie Chaplin rich.

Pleasantness brought a million to
"Jimmy" Hebron.

Other men build fortunes on thrift inventions or a simple idea for performing a much-needed service.

In your make-up is some quality,
some power, some ability that can be used as a vehicle to financial independence.

Study yourself. Analyze. Find that power. What can you do best?
What are you best fitted for? Therein is your fortune.

LINCOLN

Galesburg, Ill., celebrated Oct. 7,
the 63rd anniversary of the debate
that took place there between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas.

Lincoln at that time said of Douglas: "He is blowing out the moral lights around us, when he contends that whoever wants slaves has a right to hold them."

On that issue, in 1858, Abraham Lincoln lost the senatorship. But it gained him the presidency two years later. Right gets sidetracked at times, but it always wins out in the end.

WHICH?

A magazine asks: "If you were a part of a watch, which would you rather be, its face or its mainspring?"

That's an allegorical question, to set you thinking on what job you'd most like to hold in the business world.

Our guess is that the average person would pass up the chance of being the face or the mainspring of a watch, and select the job of being the pretty girl's picture in the back of the case. After all, the whole watch runs only for her. So does the owner.

BEATING UNCLE SAM

During the past year the Federal government has recovered $20,000,000 from citizens who tried to cheat it through false income tax returns.

Most of the cheaters are persons who are well esteemed in their communities.

Why is it that men who loathe

crime in all its other forms won't hesitate at all to pick the pockets of their Uncle Sam.

Probably because he has been so careless with his money that some of us have the notion that he really won't mind being cheated out of such small sums as $20,000,000.

FEAR

When you buy your first automobile you receive a book of instructions which tells you not to be afraid of your machine.

"Master it; don't let it master you!"
the book says.

Fear is the most evil of the powers of darkness. It paralyzes energy; it arrests initiative; it kills progress.

Thomas F. Ryan, the financier, spoke a mouthful when, discussing hard times, he said: "People everywhere have been scared."

The lady just east of my flat
Possesses a shrill-singing cat,
The people below
Have a poodle or so—
Their barking is loud, but I bear it;
The man at my west has a flute
Which wakes me at dawn with its root.
It's a bit of a strain
But I still remained sane
Till the lady above got a parrot.

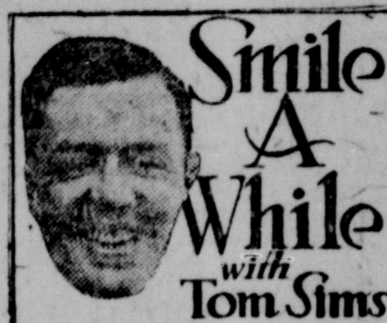

I find I am able to laugh
In spite of each loud phonograph;
When tenants have fancies
For two-o'clock dances
It's fun, and I'm willing to share it;
But oh, gentle lady above,
Though I'm mild, quite as mild as a dove,
You'd grow pallid in tint
If you had but a hint
Of the things that I think of that parrot!

I'm sick of that maddening screech
Which you may imagine is speech;
That bird in his cage
Makes me purple with rage,
And as for my hair—well, I tear it;
I hate to be rancous and rough,
But, listen—enough is enough,
Put the muffler upon
That darn pest, or I swan
You'll be mourning the death of a parrot!

EVERETT TRUE

BY CONDO

This is normalcy, we are kicking
for abnormality.

When things begin to look dark it's time to brighten up.

A cat in the house is worth two on the fence.

"Say limb for leg," advises a Boston paper. How about "bootlimbers?"

You can't travel far on a lame excuse.

Live-wire salesmen make shocking
reports.

Farmers and laundries make their living from the soil.

Next big kick will be about the high cost of giving.

It may be true the Great Lakes are going dry; but ships on them are not.

Sometimes a woman's hair looks dilapidated because she slept in it.

In these divorceful days, you never know a movie actress last name until she dies.

BLOWY BALLOON FISH
"Oh, oh!" cried Nancy pointing after the sack which was swimming rapidly away. "There goes the Fairy Queen's bag of gold. Nick will have to go after it."
"It's the gnomes," said Nancy.
"They know that we have discovered their gold and they have given the bag fins—magical ones—so it can swim away from us. If we hurry, we may catch it."

After the hurrying sack went the Twins in their magical Green Shoes.

After the hurrying sack went the Twins in their magical Green Shoes, which were just as good for swimming with as magical fins any day.

And then something still stranger happened. The bag began to swell up until the children were sure it was going to burst, and the more it swelled, the nearer it got to the top of the water.

"Wh-wh-what's going to happen?"
gasped Nancy. "Where's it going now?"

By this time the queer looking sack
was quite on top of the water, so up popped the heads of the Twins right after it. Overhead, sea-gulls were circling about happily, white clouds were loafing comfortably in the blue sky, and Jolly old Mr. Sun was laughing down at them. Not far away two porpoises were turning somersaults in the water and blowing as loud as two steam whistles.

But the next thing that happened was strangest of all. The sack lifted itself completely out of the water; by its fins (which now looked more like wings) and away it flew through the air.

"Goodness," cried Nick. "It isn't a sack at all, Nancy. It's got eyes."
Just then one of the gulls called down. "Why, hello there, Blowy Balloon Fish! Out for an airing?"

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

BAD TEETH

BY R. H. BISHOP JR., M. D.

It is only within the past few years
that the medical and dental professions have learned that many diseases get their start as the result of bad teeth.

It is now an accepted fact that many cases of general systemic infections have their origin at the root of some infected tooth or from gums that are affected with pyorrhea, an inflammatory condition of the gums about the necks of the teeth, which ultimately gives rise to a condition in which pus is present.

Estimates show that three-fourths of all the cases of rheumatism have their origin from infected teeth or tonsils. Sometimes these infections are the real cause of heart, arterial
and kidney diseases.

A good dentist is always extremely careful to properly fill the canal left after he has killed a "nerve." He does this in order that the tooth will

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER V.

I HEAR Cissy IS IN LOVE

"Did Reamier keep her beauty until seventy because she couldn't tell sin when she saw it?" I asked. I was joking, but Cissy Sheldon looked long and soberly at the spot where Ginette
had disappeared before he answered:
"Some little theory! Explaining why some girls lose their good looks early!"

A sharp summons to the set and a crowd of nervous, pushing extras ended our conversation.

Later, in another interval of waiting off scene, scraps of conversation between Ginette and Rose Montillon,
our character woman, floated to me.
Ginette was talking excitedly, angrily.
She seemed to want everybody
to hear.

"Cissy's a piker!" she averred.
"So—he's passed you up, has he?"

Your success in opening a store depends on who owns the store.

Lots of people go around hunting temptations to avoid.

To err is human; to keep it up is foolish.

These hints on how to cook a steak
should tell how to get it.

The old "No Swimming" signs are useless now. One look at the pool shows there isn't any.

First "Karponteshay," then "Milly Legles" and now comes "Marshal Foosh." Welcome Foosh.

She couldn't have been so horrid unless she was jealous. She wouldn't have been jealous unless she were in love with the Apollo of the company.

I kept on thinking of Mr. Cyrus Sheldon because he seemed to be the only person sufficiently spectacular and dramatic to keep my mind from the excruciating pain in my eyes.

Rose giggled. "For who, this time?"

"For good—this time, dearest!"

Haven't you guessed? Haven't you seen? Cissy is in love!"

"Sure! I'm not such a dumb-bell!
But SHE can't see! Say, Ginette! Is the little kid a saint? Or a plain fool?"

"I hope to tell you!" Ginette prides herself on her slang. "Now just you tie this, honey! Cissy wouldn't get so blame virtuous unless he had fell for a girl he couldn't get!"

I was immediately interested. Whom couldn't Cissy get? Who had reformed him? I resolved to ask Rose. But my own little portion of movie martyrdom made it impossible for me to put the question to her for a week.

That Saturday I had to do more close-ups than I expected in order to complete a play for rushed release. In consequence of too many exposures to the fierce lights, I reached home with a pair of highly inflamed eyeballs.

Mother dear knew just what to do for my eyes. First there was a wash of boracic solution, then a coating of the beaten white of egg, and then tepid compresses, the treatment repeated at intervals.

While I relaxed on my bed as well as I could, considering the discomfort, I meditated on Cissy, what I knew about him personally and what I guessed about him from Ginette's spitefulness.

There is good precedent for this kind of talk. St. Paul indulged in it.
He said that even if a man were to play and win, he wouldn't be awarded the prize unless he had played according to the rules of the game.

He said, "So run that ye may obtain." That is to say, "So play that you may win." He was likely to face death in the arena, and he knew it, and he spoke of it as a game he was
to play and win.

There is no conquering that sort of man. You may kill him, as they kill ed St. Paul; but he dies a winner.

FORMER DIXON MAN DIED SUDDENLY AT W. BROOKLYN HOME

Mathew Maier returned from a few days visit at Seneca with relatives. His cousin returned home with him for a few days visit.

Our community was shocked on Thursday when news of the death of G. G. Mireley reached town as he had been working in the forenoon and appeared to be in the best of health. He returned from work at noon with a severe headache and passed away about 4:30 the same afternoon.

Guy Gerald Mireley was born on his father's farm just west of West Brooklyn on Sept. 15 1881 and died at the same place of his birth on Thursday, Oct. 13 1921.

He resided at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mireley until he reached the age of 21 years at which time he moved to Dixon where he became acquainted with Miss Florence Fairchild a popular young lady of that city and was united in marriage. To this union the following children survive: Erma, age 14; Roy, age 13; Wendell, 10; and Guy Elson, age 4 weeks, all of whom are at home.

Later he moved back to his father's farm and took charge of the work owing to his father having suffered a paralytic stroke and was one of the progressive, honest and upright young farmers of the community. Following the guidance of his devoted parents he was a worthy attendant of the Methodist church of this village, where his friends gathered on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to pay their last respects to him.

Rev. Graham, a former pastor of the parish was here and officiated at the services and interment was made at the Union cemetery. Besides his devoted wife and children he leaves to mourn his loss one sister, Mrs. Cora Biggart of West Brooklyn; C. E. Mireley, a brother of Peoria; and a host of friends.

Peter Streit was over from Sublette Wednesday in the interests of his big thoroughbred hog farm.

August Bettner and Frank Knauer and Mrs. Michael Barr motored to Dixon Wednesday where they were called as witnesses in the county court.

B. J. Long spent several days in the city the fore part of the week on business.

P. D. Gehant received the two big plate glass windows for the new meat market building Wednesday and installed them.

Cap Bittner was down from Compton Wednesday calling on old friends. George W. Boemer was here from Paw Paw and installed a furnace in the Edward Henry residence.

Mrs. Fred Leake and children were here from Amboy Sunday and spent the day with her mother, Mrs. Carrie Oester.

Elmer Yye was here from Peoria and spent a few days visiting at the home of his aunt Mrs. August Gehant prior to leaving for Portsmouth, O., for the winter.

L. E. Bradshaw was a business caller in town from Compton Thursday.

Many of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Henrich motored to their home to console them in their bereavement over the loss of their nine year old son George who was killed Tuesday, when he was driving the horses on a hay fork and the doubletree broke. The quick jerk on the reins is thought to have broken the lad's neck causing his death instantly. Interment was made at Amboy.

Mrs. Lillian Stout of Amboy is here for a few days visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Peter Dolan.

C. H. Clansy was here from Chicago adjusting business matters for the insurance company which he represents.

Stanley Sherman returned home from Mendota Tuesday with a new touring car which he purchased.

F. M. Yocum is painting his home. The American Legion dance was not as well attended as usual on account of the weather.

Leon and Alvin July were here from Compton Wednesday settling up matters pertaining to their father's estate.

George Ketchum was here from the vicinity of Paw Paw making new business acquaintances.

Joseph E. Vincent returned Wednesday evening from a six weeks visit to his childhood home in Alsace-Lorraine. He reports having found conditions much better than he had expected and traces of the battlefields are fast disappearing. Mr. Vincent enjoyed the trip fine with the exception of a few days of rough sea on the way home.

The Pendleton Roundup show was well attended Saturday evening and the audience was well pleased with the entertainment.

Mrs. Laura Brunson was here Saturday from near Amboy and called on business friends and acquaintances.

John C. Henkel was over from Mendota Wednesday calling on old friends.

Maroons Hopeful in Game with "Tigers"

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Hopeful rather than confident, the University of Chicago football team departed today to meet Princeton on Saturday with a squad of 36 players and coaches headed by Captain McGuire and Coach Stagg. Training efforts the last week have been largely devoted to stiffening the Maroons' scrimmage line to withstand the Tiger offensive in the first periods, while the backfield have planned a punting and forward passing game.

Chicago showed brilliant early season form in their first game against Northwestern, but was ragged against Purdue, even though holding back to save plays and players for their eastern trip. Coach Stagg declared he was strongly hopeful of a victory if favored by breaks in the game and felt he had a strong eleven.

REBEKAH'S ELECTION.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19.—Election of Miss Ella Dunlap of Chicago Heights as warden of the state Rebekeh assembly cleared the atmosphere at midnight last night for another skirmish this morning when the retiring present, Mrs. Alice M. Trees, Peoria, will attempt to dislodge Mrs. Grace Henry of Sandwich, from her eight years place as state chief of examiner. Both women have strong followings.

Government to Sell Real Estate Tracts

Washington, Oct. 20.—The War Department is preparing to sell at auction, more than seventy real estate tracts over the country regarded as useless for present or future army purposes. Among the tracts to be sold as soon as authorization can be obtained from congress, are many obtained during the war for special purposes but the list also includes a number of old time fort and military post sites. Among the latter is all of the Fort Henry, Md. reservation with the exception of a plot to be retained as the site for a monument to Francis Scott Key, author of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

In considering offers for the properties, it was announced today, communities in the vicinity of each site will be given first opportunities to purchase for municipal purposes, and where historical interest attaches, the desires of the communities involved will be consulted, so far as practicable.

For Good Overcoats

Last spring a good many clothing manufacturers were offering to make clothing at a particularly low figure in order to maintain their factory organization and keep things going. We took advantage of that condition by purchasing some overcoats that have only recently been received. These are better values than can be purchased by us today to sell at the popular $25.00 price.

Take advantage of this overcoat opportunity. Come in within the next few days and look at these leading values in men's and young men's ulsterette overcoats at

FIRST CONTEST WITH STERLING TOMORROW P. M.

Local School Eleven to Tackle Hard Opposition.

The Dixon High school football team, strengthened and recuperated from last Saturday's defeat at DeKalb, will go to Sterling tomorrow to meet the high school team from that city in the first of a two game series. Some of the "heavy" men, who have been out of the game because of injuries, will be sufficiently recovered as to enter the lineup tomorrow. One or two of the regulars are still in a crippled condition but hope to get into the fray.

The team expects to meet a strong line tomorrow when they attempt to win the first game with Sterling. Sterling has also been handicapped with some of their players, upon whom much responsibility rests, out of the game because of injuries. A large number of high school students plan to make the trip to Sterling and attempt with their boosting to win the opening game. Sterling will play a return game in this city on Thanksgiving day, closing the high school season.

CATS INHERIT ESTATE

New York.—Cats all over the world will benefit from the $60,000 obtained by the sale of the Ewen homestead here.

Miss Caroline Ewen, who occupied the property for years with her two sisters, had a passion for caring for cats. It was her dream that every cat should have plenty of catnip, milk and a comfortable backyard fence to play on during every one of its nine lives. She devoted her life to establishing sanitariums and relief organizations for stray cats, and when she died she left all her estate, save $500 for carrying on the work. She cut off her two sisters in her will because they were not sufficiently enthusiastic about cats.

The money for rescuing the cat population of the world became available recently settled his contest of her will out of court.

Goes Farther

A can of Calumet Baking Powder will make more pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, etc. than a can of most other brands.

It lasts longer—goes farther because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less.

When a recipe calls for two teaspoons of baking powder, use two level teaspoons of Calumet, the results will always be the same—perfectly raised bakings—remember this when you buy baking powder and don't forget that Calumet is the economic buy because it goes farther.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

BIG DAY AT CORNELL

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Cornell University turned from its books, laboratories and workshops today to inaugurate a new president, Dr. N. Livingston Farrand. In addition to installing a new chief executive in the post made vacant last night by the resignation of Dr. Jacob Gould Shurman, present United States minister to China, the university had prepared to lay the cornerstone of a new chemical laboratory for which Charles M. Schwab, the steel master, gave $1,500,000.

Upwards of 125 universities and colleges sent representatives to Ithaca for today's ceremonies.

Eight Varieties of Apples on One Tree

Dubuque, Ia., Oct. 20.—Will you have seedless watermelons, muskmelons flavored to taste, or perchance any variety of apple from one tree?

If so C. W. Marshall of Minneapolis, speaking before a group of Dubuque horticulturists here, pointed the way. He has grown watermelons without seeds; also tomatoes. Flavoring muskmelons to suit any taste is a simple matter. The production of eight varieties of apples on one tree has required work on his part over a period of eight years. Experimentation with vine fruits for five years has led to the seedless varieties.

Small boys say "cramberries."

Illini Offering No Excuse for Defeat By Iowa Last Week

Urbana.—The Illinois football team returned from the Iowa game with no excuses for its defeat and with words of praise for the Hawkeye men who defeated them. The Iowa team, composed largely of old men, is already playing in late season form and should go through the season without a defeat. Devine's men have Minnesota, Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue yet to meet and on paper look stronger than any of the opposing teams.

The Illinois squad has a hard week's work ahead of it in preparation for the Wisconsin game on Illinois Field this coming Saturday. Carney, Peden, Herrig and Crangle, who were not at their best last week, came through the game in pretty good shape and should be able to practice with the team this week.

Although there has been a brisk demand for tickets for the Wisconsin game, Carl Lundgren, who has charge of the ticket sales reports that there are still plenty of tickets at all prices available.

Bad Luck and the Devil Pursued Him

"I don't think any one has had more bad luck and sickness than I have. In 1905 I had two ribs, an arm and collar bone broken in a railroad accident. Then I had pneumonia. After recovering I crossed a pasture when a bull chased me, tossed me over the fence and broke my right leg. In 1910 I had typhoid fever; since then severe stomach and liver trouble, which no medicine or doctor touched until two years ago I got a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, which proved the first ray of light in thirteen years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

OUTSIDE SENTIMENT.

It is quite evident from reading the articles published in the Dixon Telegraph in the People's column, relative to the "Bronze Tablet" that the tax payers of Lee county are about to be gassed into the expenditure of thousands of dollars of their good money.

Not only will the tax payers be gassed, but they will be hood-winked, led up a blind alley, horn-swoggled and left standing there with their pockets turned wrong side out. This little operation will take place each year along about tax paying time and will continue for the next twenty years if the citizens of Lee county don't rub the scum from their eyes and cease to be bamboozled by oily conversation and smooth penned articles written by some one from the county seat.

The Board of Supervisors of Lee county are the chosen representatives of their respective townships. We elect them because we have faith in their integrity, ability and good judgment, believing and knowing that they will endeavor to work for the best interest of all the tax payers of Lee county and not for the interest of any one particular town, village or city. These chosen representatives have had the matter of a suitable memorial before them for some time and are in a position to judge, from the knowledge they have gained from other counties, what would be suitable and proper as a memorial for Lee county soldiers and after being fully advised they have chosen the bronze memorial tablet at a cost of $5,000.

The bronze tablet will be placed in a building in Dixon that cost the tax payers over $100,000, the Lee county court house. This is the finest building in Lee county, located at the capitol where thousands of people pass in and out each year and where thousands of Lee county citizens would have the opportunity to see this memorial if it was so placed.

One writer has stated that it must be evident or apparent to the Board of Supervisors by this time that their action in the purchase of this bronze tablet, is decidedly unpopular with the citizens of this county.

I would like to ask this writer, who, outside of a few penmen in Dixon, are objecting to the purchase of this tablet? The answer is no one.

There has been a great deal of agitation, emanating from certain sources in Dixon toward the erection of a Hundred Thousand Dollar Memorial hall. One ardent builder of temples even stated that such a building would add to the beauty of Dixon and would make a wonderful impression upon strangers who passed through that city. This writer evidently forgot that the proposed memorial hall is not to be erected to beautify Dixon to make impressions on strangers, but rather as a memorial to the soldiers who fought in this country's wars and who went from Lee county. If you want to erect a tourist building, do so, but don't expect the rest of Lee county to be the goat in helping you to pay for it.

Such a building as suggested by "A Citizen" would not only be expensive to the tax payers in the erection, but how about the up keep? It would require a janitor the year round besides the other costs to maintain, such as lights, water fuel and repairs. According to "A Citizen," who states that the people of Lee county would never see the bronze tablet in the court house, I would again inquire, how many of the tax payers would see the interior of the proposed memorial hall?

My understanding is that the Board of Supervisors would have the power to erect this beautiful memorial hall at any place in Lee county that they would see fit. If that is true perhaps the thriving village of Paw Paw would

Ohio Man Lost a Year on Account of Stomach
Trouble — Is Now
Well and Strong.

"Only a man who has to work for a living knows what it means to get back on the job after not hitting a lick of work for a whole year. I lost twelve months straight time on account of stomach trouble. One of the worst cases I guess a man ever had. Tanlac not only made me a well man again but built me up nineteen pounds in weight. I am writing all my friends in other cities to tell them of the wonderful news."

The above statement was made by George B. Lowe, well known employee of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., living at 451 McGowan St., Akron, Ohio.

Tanlac is sold in Dixon by Thomas Sullivan and by the leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

gladly give space for such a building. Ashton, with her new paved streets and many other civic improvements, of which the citizens are justly proud, might donate a suitable location for a memorial hall. Amboy, Franklin Grove, Sublette, Steward, Lee and Harmon would not spurn the proffer.

But right here we might as well wake up, for we all well know that if any Supervisor in Lee county had the nerve to make a motion that "Memorial Hall" be erected at any place in Lee county other than Dixon, said motion would be declared out of order, a hurried compromise would be forth coming, and some good brother from the beautiful banks of Rock river would move to accept the "Bronze Tablet" and the cheers of the populace would resound from one end of Lee county to the other.

I would be pleased to hear from all those tax payers in Lee county who favor the expenditure of One Hundred Thousand Dollars for the erection of a Memorial Hall in Dixon. All in favor signify by saying Aye, all opposed say No. The motion is lost, and if "A Citizen" don't think that this motion would be lost, just let him file his little petition for an election on the proposition and watch what will happen to his "Hot Air Castle."

The law imprisons man or woman. Who steals a goose from off the common.

But turns the culprit loose,

Who steals the common from the goose.

There are not enough geese in Lee county to let you put over the Memorial hall, better take the sound advise of the Board of Supervisors and erect the "Bronze Tablet."

Potatoes

You will find our stock here always the best. Graded stock. Don't compare our prices with stock unloaded by others here which are ungraded and field run.

We do not look for late Potatoes No. 1 stock to sell for more than $1.25 per bushel and we believe that they will be less later. Stock is a little green from the best sections yet and prices are getting lower every day, so the longer you wait for late stock the cheaper and better they will be.

We always have 4 or 5 cars of best grade Red River Ohio on hand.
